

Philippines, China: Typhoon RAMMASUN, Flood and landslide

Country and District	Philippines, China	Philippines: 106 dead* China: 62 dead*
	Philippines: Northern and central parts of the country China: Southern part
Duration	15 Jul 2014-	Philippines: 5 missing* China: 21 missing*
Outline	Typhoon Rammasun that landed on the eastern part of Philippines on 15 Jul, moved across Luzon Island and made final landfall in southern China. Rammasun was the most powerful typhoon that hit southern China in 40 years. 106 people in Philippines, and 62 in China were killed.

*Philippines: Reported on 16 Sep 2014

*China: Reported on 27 Jul 2014

Photo 1

A man gathering bamboos that drifted to the bridge due to the Typhoon Rammasun, in Batangas in the southwest of Manila (17 Jul 2014)

Source <http://www.afpbb.com/articles/-/3020815>

Photo 2

Residents heading to an evacuation shelter in the strong wind and heavy rain caused by the typhoon in Manila (16 Jul 2014)

Source <http://www.afpbb.com/articles/-/3020815?pid=14054270>

Photo 3

A resident climbs on a bridge destroyed during the onslaught of Typhoon Rammasun, (locally named Glenda) in Batangas city south of Manila, July 17, 2014.

Source <http://www.reuters.com/article/2014/07/17/us-philippines-typhoon-idUSKBN0FM01320140717>

Photo 4

A person taking photos of storm-swept sea in Hainan province (18 Jul 2014)

Source <http://www.afpbb.com/articles/-/3021050?pid=14066126>

Photo 5

A fallen tree by the Typhoon Rammasun in Guangxi province, southern China. (19 Jul 2014)

Source <http://www.afpbb.com/articles/-/3021050>

Photo 6

A man checks his fish farms in the aftermath of the typhoon in Leizhou, Guangdong province, on Saturday

Source <http://www.bbc.com/news/world-asia-28390279>